Michael Genhart
Illustrated by Steve Mack
Aug 2017 32pp, illustrations
9781433827594 Hardback £17.95 / €21.00

A story about a friend who tries to get his way by being bossy and loud. Cake and Ice Cream are best friends, but Cake starts to notice that when Ice Cream wants something, he wants it right now! It becomes annoying to everyone else, and Ice Cream soon realizes that screaming at others is a quick way to lose friends. This story shows that friends bring out the best in each other, if you let them!
DID YOU HEAR?
A Story About Gossip
Frank J. Sileo
Illustrated by Jennifer Zivion
Oct 2017 32pp, illustrations
9781433827204 Hardback £17.95 / €21.00

Uses serious and silly rumours to illustrate the concept of gossip and how it spreads and transforms. While gossiping is a natural human behaviour, it also describes what hurtful gossip feels like, how it can be like bullying, and what to do to stop it. Illustrations take readers through a day in a little girl’s life and the gossip around her as the kids around her ask “did you hear?” Ages 4-8.

My Battle With Chronic Pain
Victoria Stopp
Nov 2017 133pp
9781476669908 Paperback £31.95 / €37.00

Pain is a giant, unforgiving equaliser. It doesn’t care about race, gender, class, or any other variable. “Real life” can get lost behind endless pills, appointments, and diagnoses. Going beyond mere survival - living a life true to oneself, free of judgement and full of adventure - is as big a battle as fighting the pain itself.

MIXED MARTIAL ARTS AND THE QUEST FOR LEGITIMACY
The Sport vs. Spectacle Divide
Mark S. Williams
Nov 2017 162pp
9781476671291 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Through an exploration of violence, class, gender, race and nationalism, the author of this volume finds that Mixed martial arts (MMA) is both an expression of the positive values of martial arts and a spectacle defined by narcissism, hate and patriarchy. The long-term success of MMA will depend on the ability of promoters and athletes to resist indulging in spectacle at the expense of sport.

WORDS THAT MATTER

How the News and Social Media Shaped the 2016 Presidential Campaign
Leticia Bode et al
Jan 2018 200pp
9780815731917 Hardback £21.50 / €28.00

The 2016 presidential election campaign might have seemed to be all about one man. He certainly did everything possible to reinforce that impression. But to an unprecedented degree the campaign also was about the news media and its relationships with the man who won and the woman he defeated.

Words that Matter assesses how the news media covered the extraordinary 2016 election and, more important, what information—true, false, or somewhere in between—actually helped voters make up their minds. Using journalists’ real-time tweets and published news coverage of campaign events, along with Gallup polling data measuring how voters perceived that reporting, the book traces the flow of information from candidates and their campaigns to journalists and to the public.

The evidence uncovered shows how Donald Trump’s victory, and Hillary Clinton’s loss, resulted in large part from how the news media responded to these two unique candidates. Both candidates were unusual in their own ways, and thus presented a long list of possible issues for the media to focus on. Which of these many topics got communicated to voters made a big difference outcome.
THE MODERN BRITISH HORROR FILM

Steven Gerrard

Nov 2017 216pp
9780813579443 Paperback £16.50 / €20.00

Quick Takes: Movies and Popular Culture

When you think of British horror films, you might picture the classic Hammer Horror movies, with Christopher Lee, Peter Cushing, and blood in lurid technicolor. Yet British horror has undergone an astonishing change and resurgence in the twenty-first century, with films that capture instead the anxieties of post-Millennial viewers.

Tracking the revitalization of the British horror film industry over the past two decades, media expert Steven Gerrard also investigates why audiences have flocked to these movies. To answer that question, he focuses on three major trends: “hoodie horror” movies responding to fears about Britain’s urban youth culture; “great outdoors” films where Britain’s forests, caves, and coasts comprise a terrifying psychogeography; and psychological horror movies in which the monster already lurks within us.

Offering in-depth analysis of numerous films, including The Descent, Outpost, and The Woman in Black, this book takes readers on a lively tour of the genre’s highlights, while provocatively exploring how these films reflect viewers’ gravest fears about the state of the nation. Whether you are a horror buff, an Anglophile, or an Anglophobe, The Modern British Horror Film is sure to be a thrilling read.

OTHELLO

William Shakespeare

Edited by Jessica Slights

Nov 2017 300pp
9781554813261 Paperback £12.95 / €15.00

Broadview Internet Shakespeare Editions

Although other Shakespeare plays offer higher body counts, more gore, and more plentiful scenes of heartbreak, Othello packs an unusually powerful affective punch, stunning us with its depiction of the swiftness and thoroughness with which love can be converted to hatred, and forcing us to confront our complicity with social and political institutions that can put all of us—but especially the most vulnerable among us—at risk.

This edition features a variety of interleaved materials—from facsimile pages and musical scores to illustrations and extended discussions of myth and folklore—that provide a context for the social and cultural allusions in the play. Appendices offer excerpts from Shakespeare’s key sources and historical materials on marriage, jealousy, and the treatment of people of African descent in Elizabethan England.

A collaboration between Broadview Press and the Internet Shakespeare Editions project at the University of Victoria, the editions developed for this series have been comprehensively annotated and draw on the authoritative texts newly edited for the ISE. This innovative series allows readers to access extensive and reliable online resources linked to the print edition.

EQUAL UNDER THE SKY
Georgia O’Keeffe and Twentieth-Century Feminism
Linda M. Grasso
Oct 2017 368pp
9780826358813 Hardback £67.95 / €80.00
The first historical study of Georgia O’Keeffe’s complex involvement with, and influence on, US feminism from the 1910s to the 1970s. Utilising understudied sources such as fan letters, archives of women’s organisations, transcripts of women’s radio shows, and programs from women’s colleges, Linda M. Grasso shows how feminism and O’Keeffe are inextricably connected in popular culture and scholarship.

INVESTIGATING TURKEY
Detective Fiction and Turkish Nationalism, 1928-1945
David Mason
Sep 2017 180pp
9781618116284 Hardback £87.50 / €105.00
Explores the lives and histories of the general population of Turkey during the years 1928 and 1945. This work assesses the level to which authors of indigenous Turkish detective fiction written between 1928 and 1945 attempted to aid in the process of transmission. Five series of this period are carefully analysed; the clear conclusion is that there was authorial intent to spread ideas of “Turkism” in each series.

Edited by Maureen G. Shanahan & Ana Maria Reyes
Nov 2017 256pp
9780813054490 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
One of Latin America’s most famous historical figures, Simón Bolívar has become a mythic symbol for many nations, empires, and revolutions used to support wildly diverse ideas. This volume shows the ways Bolívar has appeared over the last two centuries in painting, fiction, poetry, music, film, festival, dance, city planning, and even reliquary adoration.

THE CULTURE WAR IN THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT
Joe Street
Aug 2017 272pp
9780813054872 Paperback £20.95 / €25.00
The civil rights movement deliberately used music, art, theatre, and literature as political weapons to broaden the struggle and legitimise its appeal. Joe Street places these cultural forms at the centre of the civil rights struggle, arguing that the time has come to recognise the extent to which African American history and culture were vital elements of the movement.

A History of Secrecy in the United States Government
David B. Frost
Aug 2017 158pp
9781476664002 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Explores the role that secrecy has played in American governance for more than 240 years, beginning with the earliest days of the First Continental Congress in 1774, to the president’s executive privilege of withholding information from Congress and the American people, to World War II’s Manhattan Project, to today’s often controversial procedures for protecting national security.
THE ELUSIVE THOMAS JEFFERSON
Essays on the Man Behind the Myths
Edited by M. Andrew Holowchak & Brian W. Dotts
Sep 2017 214pp
9781476669250 Paperback £52.50 / €61.00
Jefferson’s writings on morality and the moral sense have typically been ignored by scholars. Why? His thoughts, never fleshed out fully in any formal work, are said to be unsystematic, inchoate, or confused. This volume argues that Jefferson was not confused and his moral thinking was systemic and consistent, not fluctuant.

TASTES OF THE EMPIRE
Foreign Foods in Seventeenth Century England
Jillian Azevedo
Sep 2017 277pp
9781476666862 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
During the 17th Century, England increasingly saw foreign foods made increasingly available to consumers and featured in recipe books, medical manuals, treatises, travel narratives, even in plays. Yet the public’s fascination with these foods went beyond just eating them. This book examines the body and mind consumerism of the early British Empire.

THE RHETORIC OF LINCOLN’S LETTERS
Marshall Myers
Dec 2017 277pp
9780826221377 Hardback £26.50 / €31.00
Although citing individual letters for biographical and critical purposes, Lincoln’s letters have not been studied as a whole. But careful study of his letters reveals that studying Lincoln’s letter writing is fundamental to understanding his development as a writer of memorable prose.

THE FOUNDATION OF THE CIA
Harry Truman, The Missouri Gang, and the Origins of the Cold War
Richard E. Schroeder
Oct 2017 224pp, 53 illustrations
9780826221377 Hardback £26.50 / €31.00
This highly accessible book provides new material and a fresh perspective on American National Intelligence practice, focusing on the first fifty years of the twentieth century, when the United States took on the responsibilities of a global superpower during the first years of the Cold War.
By tracing the largely forgotten eighteenth-century migration of elite mixed-race individuals from Jamaica to Great Britain, this volume reinterprets the evolution of British racial ideologies as a matter of negotiating family membership. Daniel Livesay follows the hundreds of mixed race children who crossed the ocean for educational opportunities, apprenticeships, marriage, or refuge.

CUBAN REVOLUTION IN AMERICA
Teishan A. Latner
Dec 2017 336pp, 12 halftones, 1 map
9781469635460 Hardback £39.50 / €46.00
Justice, Power, and Politics

When a popular revolution prevailed on America’s doorstep in 1959, it provoked the wrath of the American political establishment but fueled intense interest within the multiracial American Left. In this groundbreaking book, Teishan Latner contends that as Americans studied Cuba’s achievements, Havana in turn looked to the US Left as a collaborator in the global battle against inequality and imperialism.

A. E. Elmore
Jul 2017 280pp
9780809335602 Paperback £23.95 / €28.00
Offers a new look at the sources of one of history’s great speeches. While it has long been determined that Abraham Lincoln’s writings were influenced by the King James Bible, until now no full-length study has shown the precise ways in which the Gettysburg Address uses its specific language. This revealing investigation provides a new way to think about the speech and the man who wrote it.

Translated by Eva Maria Thury
Nov 2017 248pp
9780815635314 Paperback £31.50 / €37.00
Modern Jewish History
Originally published in 1997, Bacskai’s powerful ethnography portrays the political, religious, and individual forces that came to bear on the Orthodox Jewish tradition as it struggled for survival in the aftermath of the Holocaust in Hungary. Through interviews and intimate profiles, Bacskai narrates the individual stories of survival and the collective story of Jews struggling to maintain a community.

REMAPPING MODERN GERMANY AFTER NATIONAL SOCIALISM, 1945-1961
Matthew D. Mingus
Sep 2017 224pp, 1 b&w illustration
9780815635383 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00
Syracuse Studies in Geography
Many German geographers throughout the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries became deeply invested in the idea that a nation’s territorial holdings (or losses) dictate every other aspect of its existence. Taking this as his premise, Mingus focuses on the use of maps as mediums through which the US, Great Britain, and the Soviet Union sought to reshape German national identity after the Second World War.

THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURIES
Global Networks of Enlightenment
Edited by David T. Gies & Cynthia Wall
Jan 2018 320pp
9780813940755 Hardback £41.95 / €49.00

During the chronological eighteenth century, learning and knowledge were intimately connected across disciplinary and geographical boundaries, yet the connections themselves are largely unstudied. In this volume scholars address the idea of plural Enlightenments and a global eighteenth century, transcending the demarcations that long limited our grasp of the period’s breadth and depth.

Anton Weiss-Wendt
Jul 2017 384pp
9780299312909 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00

Critical Human Rights

After the horrors of World War II and the Holocaust, the UN resolved to prevent and punish the crime of genocide. The resulting UN Genocide Convention treaty, however, was weakened in the midst of Cold War tensions. Anton Weiss-Wendt reveals in detail how the political aims of the superpowers rendered the convention a weak instrument for addressing abuses against human rights.
LANDSCAPES OF THE ITZA
Archaeology and Art History at Chichen Itza and Neighboring Sites
Edited by Linnea Wren et al
Jan 2018 336pp
9780813054964 Hardback £115.00 / €135.00
Chichen Itza, the legendary capital and trading hub of the late Maya civilization, continues to fascinate visitors and researchers with unanswered questions. Addressing many of these debates, this book asks when the city’s construction was completed, the purposes of its famous pyramid and other buildings, and how the city’s influence was felt in neighbouring settlements.

THE STRONG CASE APPROACH IN BEHAVIORAL ARCHAEOLOGY
Edited by Michael Brian Schiffer, Charles Riggs & J. Jefferson Reid
Oct 2017 288pp
9781607815761 Paperback £47.95 / €55.00

Although all archaeologists subscribe in principle to building strong cases in support of their inferences, behavioural archaeology alone has created methodology for developing strong cases in practice. The behavioural version of the strong case approach rests on two main pillars: (1) nomothetic (generalising) strategies, consisting of research in experimental archaeology, ethnoarchaeology, and long-term processes of behavioural change to produce principles necessary for inference; and (2) the formation processes of supporting evidence when constructing inferences.

The Poetics of Speech in Ovid
Bartolo A. Natoli
Aug 2017 232pp
9780299312107 Hardback £73.50 / €86.00
Wisconsin Studies in Classics
Offers an examination of the loss of speech, exile from community, and memory throughout the literary corpus of the Roman poet Ovid. In Metamorphoses, characters are transformed in ways that include losing their power of human speech. In Tristia and Epistulae ex Ponto, Ovid represents himself as also having been transformed, losing his voice. Bartolo A. Natoli provides a unique cross-reading of these works.

The September 11, 2001 attacks on the US and the subsequent “War on Terror” refuelled long-standing negative stereotypes of Muslims and Islam among many Americans. Yet thousands of practicing Muslims continued to serve or chose to enlist in the US military. In Service in a Time of Suspicion, fifteen such service members talk about what it means to be Muslim, American, and a member of the armed services.

FLYING AGAINST FATE
Superstition and Allied Aircrews in World War II
S. P. Mackenzie
Jul 2017 264pp
9780700624690 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00

During World War II, Allied casualty rates in the air were 45.5%. Unsurprisingly, many airmen faced their dangerous missions with beliefs and rituals ranging from the traditional to the outlandish. Military historian S. P. MacKenzie considers this phenomenon in this pioneering study of the important role that superstition played in combat flier morale among the Allies in World War II.

INGLORIOUS PASSAGES
Noncombat Deaths in the American Civil War
Brian Steel Wills
Nov 2017 408pp
9780700625086 Hardback £36.95 / €43.00

In letters, diaries, obituaries, and other accounts, eminent Civil War historian Brian Steel Wills finds the powerful and poignant stories of fatal accidents and encounters and collateral civilian deaths that occurred in the factories and fields of the Union and the Confederacy from 1861 to 1865. Wills retrieves these stories from obscurity to reveal the grave toll these losses exacted.

IRAQ AND THE POLITICS OF OIL
An Insider’s Perspective
Gary Vogler
Nov 2017 352pp
9780700625062 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00

Was the Iraq war really about oil? As a senior oil advisor for the Office for Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance and briefly as minister of oil, Gary Vogler thought he knew. But while doing research for a book about his experience in Iraq, Vogler discovered that what he knew was not the whole story. The Iraq war did have an oil agenda underlying it. This book is his attempt to set the record straight.

THE MYTHS OF TET
The Most Misunderstood Event of the Vietnam War
Edwin Moïse
Oct 2017 280pp
9780700625024 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00

Much that has been written about the Tet Offensive has been misleading. Edwin Moïse shows that the Communist campaign shocked the American public not because the American media exaggerated its success, but because it was a bigger campaign - larger in scale, much longer in duration, and resulting in more American casualties - than most authors have acknowledged.

THE WEHRMACHT’S LAST STAND
The German Campaigns of 1944-1945
Robert M. Citino
Oct 2017 664pp
9780700624942 Hardback £36.95 / €43.00

By 1943, the war was lost, and most German officers knew it. Three quarters of a century later, the question persists: what kept the German army going in an increasingly hopeless situation? Where some historians have found explanations in the power of Hitler or the role of ideology, Robert M. Citino posits a more straightforward solution: the way of war cultivated by the Germans over the course of history.

Brian D. Laslie
Oct 2017 236pp
9780813169989 Hardback £41.95 / €49.00

At age 36, Laurence S. Kuter became the youngest general officer since William T. Sherman. He served as deputy commander of allied tactical air forces in North Africa during World War II and helped devise the American bombing strategy in Europe. Brian D. Laslie offers the first biography of this unsung pioneer whose influence can be found in every stage of the development of an independent US Air Force.

THE CHRISTMAS TRUCE
Myth, Memory, and the First World War
Terri Blom Crocker
Foreword by Peter Grant
Aug 2017 310pp
9780813174020 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00

Provides the first comprehensive analysis of both scholarly and popular portrayals of the Christmas Truce from 1914 to present. From books by influential historians to the Oscar-nominated French film Joyeux Noel (2006), this new examination shows how a variety of works have both explored and enshrined this outbreak of peace amid overwhelming violence.

LOSSBERG’S WAR
The World War I Memoirs of a German Chief of Staff
Fritz von Lossberg
Edited by David T. Zabecki & Dieter J. Biedekarken
Foreword by Holger H. Herwig
Sep 2017 406pp
9780813169804 Hardback £67.95 / €80.00

Foreign Military Studies

General Fritz von Lossberg directed virtually all the major German defensive battles on the Western Front during the First World War. Now available for the first time in English, Lossberg’s memoir explains how he developed, tested, and implemented his central principles - flexibility, decentralised control, and counterattack - which were based on a need to adapt to shifting conditions on the battlefield.

ORDER IN CHAOS
The Memoirs of General of Panzer Troops Hermann Balck
Hermann Balck
Edited and Translated by David T. Zabecki & Dieter J. Biedekarken
Aug 2017 578pp
9780813174037 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Foreign Military Studies

German general Hermann Balck (1897-1982) was considered to be one of World War II’s greatest battlefield commanders. Drawing heavily on his meticulously kept wartime journals, Balck discusses his childhood and his career through the First and Second World Wars. His memoir details the command decision-making process as well as operations on the ground during crucial battles.

Joachim Ludewig
Edited by David T. Zabecki
Aug 2017 504pp
9780813174341 Paperback £31.50 / €37.00

Foreign Military Studies

While much has been written about D-day, very little has been written about the crucial period from August to September, immediately after the invasion. This intriguing study, translated from German, not only examines a significant and often overlooked phase of the war, but also offers a valuable account of the conflict from the perspective of the German forces.

THE EMPEROR AND THE PEASANT
Two Men at the Start of the Great War and the End of the Habsburg Empire
Kenneth Janda
Oct 2017 277pp
9781476669571 Paperback £67.95 / €80.00

There was more to World War I than the Western Front. This history, presented as two intertwined narratives in alternating chapters, juxtaposes the experiences of a monarch and a peasant on the Eastern Front. Franz Joseph I, emperor of Austria-Hungary, was the first European leader to declare war; Samuel Mozolak was a Slovak labourer, drafted into the army and killed in combat.

THE KAISER’S LOST KREUZER
A History of U-156 and Germany’s Long-Range Submarine Campaign Against North America, 1918
Paul N. Hodos
Nov 2017 171pp
9781476671628 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

In 1917 and 1918 Germany made her first attempt to wage long range submarine warfare. In that deadly last chapter of the Great War the Germans sent giant submarines to prey upon Allied shipping. This is the first time the whole story has been told from the perspective of Imperial Germany in the English language.

THE YANKS ARE COMING OVER THERE
Anglo-Saxonism and American Involvement in the First World War
Dino Buenviaje
Nov 2017 164pp
9781476668932 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00

At the outset of World War I few Americans saw any reason to get involved in yet another conflict among the crowned heads of Europe. Despite its declared neutrality, the US government gradually became more sympathetic with the Allies. Key to this shift in policy and public opinion was “Anglo-Saxonism” - the belief that the English-speaking peoples were inherently superior and fit for world leadership.

VICTORY AT MIDWAY
The Battle That Changed the Course of World War II
James M. D’Angelo
Nov 2017 129pp
9781476670713 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

In June 1942, Japan suffered a devastating defeat at the Battle of Midway and was never again able to take the offensive in the Pacific. Bringing fresh perspective to the battle and its consequences, the author identifies the Japanese operational plan as a major factor in the navy’s demise and describes the profound effects Midway had on the course of the war in Europe.

THE MISTAKEN HISTORY OF THE KOREAN WAR
What We Got Wrong Then and Now
Paul M. Edwards
Dec 2017 277pp
9781476670485 Paperback £37.50 / €43.00

Much of the history of the Korean War has been lost or misinterpreted, primarily because the undefined goals of the conflict, the inability of the home front to properly engage, and the failure to achieve complete victory has tarnished it. In taking a closer look at the conflict, this book offers a clearer and somewhat unique understanding of the war.

Imaginative Texts from the Conflicts in Afghanistan and Iraq
Owen W. Gilman
Feb 2018 256pp
9781496815767 Hardback £61.50 / €72.00

Since the trauma of September 11, the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts - creative nonfiction and journalism, film, poetry, and fiction. These responses, Owen W. Gilman contends, have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II’s literature and film.

OMAR NELSON BRADLEY
America’s GI General
Steven L. Ossad
Nov 2017 480pp
9780826221360 Hardback £39.50 / €46.00
When Omar Nelson Bradley began his military career more than a century ago, the army rode horses into combat and had less than 200,000 men. At the height of his career, Bradley led 1.23 million men as commander of 12 Army Group in the Western Front to bring an end to World War II. This new biography by Steven L. Ossad gives an account of Bradley’s formative years, his decorated career, and his postwar life.

AMERICAN AMPHIBIOUS WARFARE
The Roots of Tradition to 1865
Gary J. Ohls
Dec 2017 320pp
9781682470886 Hardback £37.95 / €45.00
Describes and analyses early landing operations (from the Revolution to the Civil War) of American history, showing how they contributed to its rich amphibious tradition. This study does not attempt to describe every amphibious operation in early America, but focuses on seven major battles or campaigns providing a strong appreciation for the roots of American amphibious traditions.

ANATOMY OF FAILURE
Why America Loses Every War It Starts
Harlan Ullman
Nov 2017 272pp
9781682472255 Hardback £28.50 / €34.00
Since the end of World War II, America lost every war it started and failed in military interventions when it did not use sound strategic thinking or have sufficient knowledge and understanding of the circumstances in deciding to use force. By examining the records of presidents from John F. Kennedy to Barack Obama in using force or starting wars, it becomes self-evident why the US fails.

GAMBLING AND WAR
Risk, Reward, and Chance in International Conflict
Justin Conrad
Oct 2017 256pp
9781682472194 Hardback £28.50 / €34.00
Focuses on applying lessons learned from poker, blackjack, roulette and other games of chance to study of international conflict. The book demonstrates how the combined factors of strategy, psychology and probability influence the outbreak of wars, how they are fought, and why they end.

Oct 2017 576pp
9781682471654 Hardback £33.50 / €39.00
US planning for the invasion and military occupation of Imperial Japan was begun in 1943, two years before the dropping of atom bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Codenamed Operation Downfall, it called for the invasion to be carried out in two stages. Hell To Pay: Operation DOWNFALL and the Invasion of Japan, 1945-1947 examine this subject in detail.

NEGLECTED SKIES
The Demise of British Naval Power in the Far East, 1922-1942
Angus Britts
Oct 2017 272pp
9781682471579 Hardback £32.95 / €39.00
Offers a reconsideration of one of the Second World War’s most forgotten naval engagements - the abortive clash between the British Eastern Fleet and the Imperial Japanese Navy’s First Air Fleet (Kido Butai) to the south of Ceylon, over a period of ten days in late March/early April 1942. The focus on this battle is for the purpose of exploring the surrender of British naval supremacy.

Aug 2017 160pp
9781554813193 Paperback £14.50 / €17.00

The Mabinogi, a classic of Welsh literature, is a suite of four stories in Middle Welsh. They were composed, or at least put into their current form in the late eleventh or early twelfth century. Set in a primal past, the Mabinogi bridges many genres; it is part pre-Christian myth, part fairytale, part guide to how nobles should act, and part dramatisation of political and social issues.

9780813062419 Hardback £94.50 / €110.00

In a daring rewrite of literary history, this volume argues that the medieval poet and musician Guillaume de Machaut was the major influence in narrative craft during the late Middle Ages and long after. Examining Machaut’s series of debate poems, contributors highlight the genre’s authorial self-consciousness, polyvocality, and ambiguity of judgment.

RESISTANCE REIMAGINED
Black Women’s Critical Thought as Survival
Regis M. Fox
Dec 2017 192pp
9780813056586 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00

Looking closely at nineteenth-century texts and twentieth-century novels written by African American women about antebellum America, Resistance Reimagined highlights examples of black women’s activism within a society that spoke so much of freedom but granted it so selectively.

LIVING IN THE FUTURE
Sovereignty and Internationalism in the Canterbury Tales
Susan Nakley
Aug 2017 288pp
9780472130443 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00
Nationalism, like medieval romance literature, recasts history as a mythologised and seamless image of reality. Living in the Future analyses how the anachronistic nationalist fantasies in Geoffrey Chaucer’s Canterbury Tales create a false sense of England’s historical continuity that in turn legitimised contemporary political ambitions.

JACK LONDON
A Writer’s Fight for a Better America
Cecelia Tichi
Aug 2017 296pp
9781469636054 Paperback £23.50 / €27.00

Jack London (1876-1916) found fame with his wolf-dog tales and sagas of the frozen North, but Cecelia Tichi challenges the long-standing view of London as merely a mass-market producer of potboilers. Thoroughly exploring London’s importance as an artist and as a political and public figure, Tichi brings to life a man who merits recognition as one of America’s foremost public intellectuals.

THE REAPPEARING CHARACTERS IN BALZAC’S COMEDIE HUMAINE
Arthur Graves Canfield
Jul 2017 74pp
9780807890370 Paperback £31.95 / €37.00
North Carolina Studies in the Romance Languages and Literatures
Balzac made a conscious effort in Comedie Humaine to multiply the reappearance, from book to book, of some of his characters. This careful analysis of nearly six hundred reappearing characters shows that some appear only briefly, in no significant role; others play important parts; some become principals in later action.

GEORGE ELIOT’S RELIGIOUS IMAGINATION
A Theopoetical Evolution
Marilyn Orr
Nov 2017 168pp
9780810135888 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Addresses the much-discussed question of Eliot’s relation to Christianity in the wake of the sociocultural revolution triggered by the spread of theories of evolution. The standard view is that Eliot “lost her faith” at this time of religious crisis. Orr argues for a more nuanced understanding of the continuity of Eliot’s work, as one not shattered by science, but shaped by its influence.
THE INSTITUTIONS OF RUSSIAN MODERNISM
Conceptualizing, Publishing, and Reading Symbolism
Jonathan Stone
Oct 2017 416pp
9780810135727 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00
Illuminates the key role of Symbolism as the earliest form of modernism in Russia. Combining book history, periodical studies, and reception theory, Jonathan Stone examines the poetry and theory of Russian Symbolism within the framework of the institutions that organised, published, and disseminated the works to Russian readers.

G. S. Sahota
Jan 2018 320pp
9780810136489 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
FlashPoints, Vol 29
Taking cues from Walter Benjamin’s fragmentary writings on literary-historical method, Late Colonial Sublime reconstellates the dialectic of Enlightenment across a wide imperial geography, with special focus on the fashioning of neo-epics in Hindi and Urdu literary cultures in British India.

LYRICAL STRATEGIES
The Poetics of the Twentieth-Century American Novel
Katie Owens-Murphy
Jan 2018 208pp
9780810136540 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Advances the highly original idea that not all literary fiction should be read as a novel. Katie Owens-Murphy identifies a prominent type of American novel well suited to the reading methods of lyric poetry and lyric frameworks of structural repetition, rhythm, figurative meaning, dramatic personae, and exclusive address.

MILTON’S MODERNITIES
Poetry, Philosophy, and History from the Seventeenth Century to the Present
Edited by Feisal G. Mohamed & Patrick Fadely
Aug 2017 368pp
9780810135338 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00
Rethinking the Early Modern
The phrase “early modern” challenges readers and scholars to explore ways in which that period expands and refines contemporary views of the modern. Milton’s Modernities is a collection of eleven original essays undertaking such exploration with a focus on John Milton, a poet whose prodigious energies simultaneously point to the past and future.

THE NEW WOMAN
Literary Modernism, Queer Theory, and the Trans Feminine Allegory
Emma Heaney
Aug 2017 384pp
9780810135536 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00
FlashPoints, Vol. 27
Traces the creation of the trans feminine as an allegorical figure from its origins in late nineteenth-century sexological writing to subsequent writings in the fields of psychoanalysis, Modernist fiction, and contemporary Queer Theory. The New Woman examines foundational works in Queer Theory to demonstrate how the Modernist trans feminine allegory was resuscitated at the end of the twentieth century.

ONE FOOT IN THE FINITE
Melville’s Realism Reclaimed
K. L. Evans
Dec 2017 184pp
9780810136120 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Makes the case that Melville’s masterpiece Moby-Dick offers a chance to rethink literary realism. Distinguishing between realism as an attempt to hold up a mirror to the natural world and the more nuanced realism associated with the work of Dante, Shakespeare and Goethe, K.L. Evans suggests that even narratives like Moby-Dick can depict life as it is actually lived and experienced.
VIOLENCE AND GRACE
Exceptional Life Between Shakespeare and Modernity
Nichole E. Miller
Jan 2018 256pp
9780810136588 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Rethinking the Early Modern
Establishes a conceptual link between early modern English drama and twentieth-century political theology, both of which emerge from the experience of political crisis. Nicole Miller’s analyses retrieve for political theology the relations between gender, sexuality, and the political aesthetics of violence on the early modern stage, addressing the plays of Marlowe, Middleton, and Shakespeare.

Leah Orr
Nov 2017 336pp
9780813940137 Hardback £47.95 / €55.00

Resisting the standard rise of the novel paradigm, Novel Ventures incorporates new research about the fiction marketplace to illuminate early fiction as an eighteenth-century reader or writer might have seen it. Examining all 475 works of fiction printed over the four decades from 1690 to 1730, Leah Orr shows that the genre was much more diverse and innovative in this period than is usually thought.

LIMITS TO INTERPRETATION
The Meanings of Anna Karenina
Vladimir E. Alexandrov
Oct 2017 368pp
9780299195441 Paperback £22.95 / €27.00

Vladimir E. Alexandrov advocates a broad revision of the academic study of literature, proposing an adaptive, text-specific approach designed to minimize the circularity of interpretation inherent in the act of reading. He illustrates this method with the example of Tolstoy’s classic novel, Anna Karenina, via a detailed map of the different possible readings that the novel can support.

LATINX SUPERHEROES IN MAINSTREAM COMICS
Frederick Luis Aldama
Foreword by John Jennings
Afterword by Javier Hernandez
Oct 2017 240pp
9780816537082 Paperback £24.50 / €28.00

Explores the storyworld spaces inhabited by brown superheroes in mainstream comic book storyworlds: print comic books, animation, TV, and film. It makes visible and lets loose the otherwise occluded and shackled. Leaving nothing to chance, it sheds light on how creators make storyworlds that feature Latinos/as, distinguishing between those that we should evaluate as well done and those not well done.

THE EXPANDING ART OF COMICS
Ten Modern Masterpieces

Thierry Groensteen
Translated by Ann Miller
Nov 2017 240pp
9781496808028 Hardback £61.50 / €72.00

Offers a distinct perspective on important evolutions in comics since the 1960s through close readings of ten seminal works. Thierry Groensteen covers over half a century of comics production, sampling a single work from the sixties, seventies, eighties and nineties. He then delves into recent masterpieces. Groensteen recaptures the impact with which these works broke with what had gone before.

Seth and the Art of Memory

Daniel Marrone
Dec 2017 246pp
9781496814791 Paperback £28.50 / €34.00
Great Comics Artists Series

At once familiar and hard to place, the work of acclaimed Canadian cartoonist Seth evokes a world that no longer exists - and perhaps never existed, except in the panels of long-forgotten comics. Forging the Past offers a comprehensive account of his work and the complex interventions it makes into the past.

GRAPHIC NOVELS AS PHILOSOPHY
Edited by Jeff McLaughlin
Sep 2017 240pp
9781496813275 Hardback £61.50 / €72.00

In a follow-up to Comics as Philosophy, contributors address two questions: Which philosophical insights, concepts, and tools can shed light on the graphic novel? And how can the graphic novel cast light on the concerns of philosophy? Each contributor ponders a graphic novel to illuminate ways in which philosophy can untangle combinations of image and written word for deeper understanding.

Throughout his directorial career, Clint Eastwood’s movies have presented sympathetic narratives of characters enduring personal trauma as they turn to violence to survive calamity or sustain social order. In this collection of new essays, contributors examine his films as studies on PTSD that expose the social conditions that tolerate or trigger traumatisation and imagine a way through trauma.

FRANK WISBAR
The Director of Ferryman Maria, from Germany to America and Back
Henry Nicolella
Aug 2017 277pp
9781476666884 Paperback £47.50 / €55.00
German director Frank Wisbar (1899–1967) had the misfortune of achieving success as a filmmaker just as Hitler came to power. Wisbar fled to America, where Hollywood saw him as no more than a technician. A successful stint in early television allowed him to return home to a very different Germany. The book examines the films and career of an under-appreciated auteur who ultimately lost faith in his own vision.

Blake Edwards was a multi-talented, versatile director constantly exploring who he was, not only in filmmaking but also in life. Blake Edwards: Interviews highlights how he created the Pink Panther franchise; his long partnership with award-winning composer Henry Mancini; his principles of comedy; his marriage and film collaborations with Julie Andrews; and his unique philosophy of life.
Scarcely attention has been paid to the dimension of sound and its essential role in constructing image, culture, and identity in Chinese film and media. China in the Mix fills a critical void as the first book to examine the sound, languages, scenery, media, and culture of post-Socialist China.

MARGARETHE VON TROTTA

Interviews
Edited by Monika Raesch

A collection of twenty-four illuminating interviews with the auteur. Spanning three decades, from the mid-1980s until today, the interviews reveal not only von Trotta’s life in the film industry, but also evolving roles of and opportunities provided to women over that time. These interviews present the different dimensions of von Trotta through the lenses of film critics, scholars, and journalists.

THE SCREEN IS RED

Hollywood, Communism, and the Cold War
Bernard F. Dick

Explores Hollywood’s ambivalence toward the former Soviet Union before, during, and after the Cold War. Today the threat is no longer the Soviet Union, but international terrorism. Bernard F. Dick argues, however, that the Soviet Union has not lost its appeal, as evident from the popular and critically acclaimed television series The Americans. More than eighty years later, the screen is still red.

DEMOGRAPHIC ANGST

Cultural Narratives and American Films of the 1950s
Alan Nadel

Argues that mandated normativity - as a political agenda and a social ethic - precluded explicit expression of the anxiety produced by America’s radically reconfigured postwar population. Alan Nadel explores influential non-fiction books, magazine articles, and public documents in conjunction with films to examine how these films worked through fresh anxieties that emerged during the 1950s.

FILM REMAKES AND FRANCHISES

Daniel Herbert

Examines how remakes and sequels have been central to the film industry from its very inception, yet also considers how the recent trends toward reboots and transmedia franchises depart from those historical precedents. Film scholar Daniel Herbert not only analyses the film industry’s increasing reliance on recycled product, but also asks why audiences are currently so drawn to such movies.
GOING VIRAL

IMPERIAL AFFECTS
Sensational Melodrama and the Attractions of American Cinema
Jonna Eagle
Jul 2017 270pp
9780813583020 Paperback £27.50 / €31.00
War Culture
In American culture and history, a feeling of national identity and belonging have often derived from a sense of injury, vulnerability, and loss. Jonna Eagle turns to the workings of American cinema to understand the power and persistence of these conjunctions, tracing the shifting dynamics of action and pathos as they structure representations of imperialist motion and violence across the twentieth century.

THE LIMITS OF AUTEURISM
Case Studies in the Critically Constructed New Hollywood
Nicholas Godfrey
Feb 2018 274pp
9780813589145 Paperback £25.50 / €30.00
The New Hollywood era of the late 1960s and early 1970s has become one of the most romanticised periods in motion picture history, celebrated for its stylistic boldness, thematic complexity, and the unshackling of directorial ambition. The Limits of Auteurism aims to challenge many of these assumptions.

MAKING BELIEVE
Screen Performance and Special Effects in Popular Cinema
Lisa Bode
Jul 2017 218pp
9780813579979 Paperback £25.50 / €29.00
Techniques of the Moving Image
In the past twenty years, we have seen the rise of digital effects cinema in which the human performer is entangled with animation, collaged with other performers, or inserted into perilous or fantastic situations. Making Believe sheds light on these developments by historicising screen performance within the context of special effects cinema and technological change in Hollywood filmmaking.

The Music of Earle Brown
Rebecca Y. Kim
Oct 2017 424pp
9780472130580 Hardback £88.95 / €105.00

Earle Brown (1926-2002) was a crucial part of the seminal group of experimental composers known as the New York School, and his work intersects in fascinating ways with that of his colleagues John Cage, Morton Feldman, and Christian Wolff. This book seeks to expand our view of Brown’s work, addressing his practices as a painter and composer as well as his collaborations with visual artists.

The British Blues Network
Adoption, Emulation, and Creativity
Andrew Kellett
Sep 2017 256pp
9780472130528 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00

Examines the role of British narratives of masculinity and power in the postwar era of decolonisation and national decline that contributed to the creation of a network of British musicians influenced by African-American blues music, and how its members used the tropes, vocabulary, and mythology of African-American blues traditions to forge their own musical identities.

Mimi Yiu
Jan 2018 336pp
9780810136595 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Rethinking the Early Modern

Taking the reader on an inward journey from façades to closets, from physical to psychic space, Architectural Involutions offers an alternative genealogy of theatre by revealing how innovations in architectural writing and practice transformed an early modern sense of interiority. The book situates Alberti, Shakespeare, Jonson, and others within a landscape of spatial and visual change.

Adapturgy
The Dramaturg’s Art and Theatrical Adaptation
Jane Barnette
Nov 2017 264pp
9780809336272 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00

Dramaturg Jane Barnette has put together an essential guide for theatre scholars and practitioners seeking to understand and participate in the process of adaptation for the stage. Employing the term “adapturgy”, Barnette redefines the dramaturg’s role and thoroughly refutes the commonplace point of view that adapted works are somehow less creative than “original” plays.
In his monumental study of Philo of Alexandria (1947), Harry A. Wolfson argued that the philosophical method developed by Philo, in which Greek philosophy and Scripture are combined, served as the model for Christian, Jewish and Islamic thinkers until the time of Spinoza. This book, through an examination of the thought of Philo, Maimonides and Aquinas, confirms Wolfson’s thesis.

It is impossible to fully understand much of the most important work in contemporary philosophy without a basic grasp of set theory, functions, probability, decision theory, and modality. More Precisely is written for people who wish to engage with contemporary philosophical writing but first need to fill gaps in their technical knowledge.

What is the modern turn in philosophy? In other words, what are the features that make modern philosophy distinctively “modern” in contrast with the pre-modern philosophy from which it emerged? The twelve essays in this volume seek to address this question, and in doing so, exemplify and contribute to a rich debate about the nature and value of modern philosophy.

A PROCESS MODEL
Eugene Gendlin
Nov 2017 320pp
9780810136199 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00
Studies in Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy
A foundational text by Eugene Gendlin, increasingly recognised as one of the most original contemporary thinkers, A Process Model demonstrates how human behaving, perceiving, speaking, and everyday living arise from body-environment interaction. Gendlin creates an alternative model in which we define living bodies in such a way that one of them can be ours.

ESSENTIAL VULNERABILITIES
Plato and Levinas on Relations to the Other
Deborah Achtenberg
Oct 2017 224pp
9780810135635 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00
Contests Emmanuel Levinas’s idea that Plato is a philosopher of freedom for whom thought is a return to the self. Instead, Plato, like Levinas, is a philosopher of the other. Nonetheless, Deborah Achtenberg argues, Plato and Levinas are different. Though they view human beings as essentially vulnerable and in relation to others, they conceive human vulnerability and responsiveness differently.

JUDGMENT AND ACTION
Fragments toward a History
Edited by Vivasvan Soni & Thomas Pfau
Dec 2017 360pp
9780810136311 Paperback £41.95 / €49.00
Written by theologians, literary scholars, political theorists, classicists, and philosophers, the essays in Judgment and Action address the growing sense that certain key concepts in humanistic scholarship have become suspect, if not downright unintelligible, amid the current plethora of critical methods. These essays aim to reassert the normative force of judgment and action.

KANT’S CONCEPTION OF PEDAGOGY

PERCEPTION IN ARISTOTLE’S ETHICS
Eve Rabinoff
Feb 2018 176pp
9780810136427 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Demonstrates that living an ethical life requires a mode of perception that is best called ethical perception. Specifically, drawing primarily on Aristotle’s accounts of perception and ethics in De anima and Nicomachean Ethics, Eve Rabinoff argues that the faculty of perception, which is often thought to be an entirely physical phenomenon, is informed by intellect and has an ethical dimension.

SAYING WHAT WE MEAN
Implicit Precision and the Responsive Order
Eugene Gendlin
Edited by Edward S. Casey & Donata Schoeller
Nov 2017 296pp
9780810136229 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Studies in Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy

The first collection of Gendlin’s groundbreaking essays in philosophical psychology. Saying What We Mean casts familiar areas of human experience, such as language and feeling, in a radically different light. Instead of the familiar emphasis on the conceptually explicit in an era of scientism, Gendlin shows that the implicit also comprises a structure available for recognition and analysis.

Propaganda used by terrorists and armed groups might not always be the most sophisticated or nuanced form of rhetoric, but with the right mix of emotion and logic it can be extremely effective. This book examines how terrorist groups in recent history have used propaganda, and how they have adapted to new communications technologies while retaining useful techniques from the past.
Geopolitics in the 21st Century

Argues that domestic and regional realities are now edging Turkey toward improving its relations with the West. A better understanding of these developments will be critical in devising an updated US strategy toward Turkey and its neighbourhood. This book discusses the challenges and opportunities for the new US administration of re-engaging with a sometimes-troublesome, yet long-time ally.

Ideas for a More Responsive and Effective European Union

Steven Blockmans & Sophia Russack

Jul 2017 40pp
9789461385758 Paperback £12.50 / €17.00

This incisive report comes at a time of almost unprecedented self-examination for the EU. Faced with growing nationalism, illiberalism, economic, security and political challenges - not least to the very membership of the Union - the relevance of the EU has become a matter of intense debate. How it responds to these challenges will define the next era of cooperation and integration in Europe.

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Jacob Parakilas et al

Oct 2017 60pp
9781784132118 Paperback £12.50 / €17.00

Discussions about the future of artificial intelligence (AI) tend to view it as distinct from, and potentially as a threat to, human intelligence. What has been less examined are the potential applications for AI in assisting the human decision making process. This report bridges the gap between the technical and policy sectors to examine how AI can contribute to different aspects of security policy.

POTENTIAL FOR TRANSATLANTIC RIFTs

Xenia Wickett

Aug 2017 60pp
9781784132118 Paperback £12.50 / €17.00

The objective of this report is to establish greater understanding and transparency between the United States and the major European states over whether the relationships are converging or diverging and whether this is structural or cyclical. Based on an understanding of the factors leading to any divergence, the report identifies possible approaches that would help manage any differences.

James Ian Wallner
Nov 2017 272pp
9780472130542 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00
Legislative Politics and Policy Making
Presents a new, bargaining model of procedural change to explain the persistence of the filibuster in the current polarised US political environment, and focuses on the dynamics ultimately responsible for the nature and direction of contested procedural change. James Wallner’s model explains why Senate majorities have historically tolerated the filibuster, even when it has been used to defeat their agenda.

RISING POWERS AND FOREIGN POLICY REVISIONISM
Understanding BRICS Identity and Behavior Through Time
Cameron G Thies & Mark David Nieman
Dec 2017 224pp
9780472130566 Hardback £73.50 / €86.00
Examines the identity and behavior of the BRICS (Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa) in light of concerns that rising powers may become more aggressive and conflict-prone. The authors develop a theoretical framework that encapsulates pressures for revisionism through the mechanism of competition, and pressures for accommodation and assimilation through the mechanism of socialisation.

Matthew Levering
Sep 2017 277pp
9780813229300 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00

Contemporary scholars often refer to “the event of Vatican II”, but what kind of an event was it? Matthew Levering offers an introduction to Vatican II with a detailed summary of each of its four central documents - the dogmatic constitutions - followed by explanations of how to interpret them. Levering also offers a reading of each conciliar Constitution in light of a key theological author from the era.
FUNDAMENTAL THEOLOGY
Guy Mansini
Jan 2018 304pp
9780813229850 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00
Sacra Doctrina, Vol. 2
Examines the light by which the mysteries of Christ and the Church, the Trinity and the Sacraments, are revealed to us. That light we call “revelation,” and fundamental theology examines in the first place what this light shows about itself, and how it is sustained in the world.

GLORY OF THE LOGOS IN THE FLESH
Saint John Paul's Theology of the Body
Michael Maria Waldstein
Dec 2017 400pp
9781932589764 Paperback £37.50 / €43.00
Helps readers of Pope John Paul II's Theology of the Body enter this masterwork with clearer understanding. Part One is a map of John Paul's text. Part Two reflects on the breadth of reason in Plato's Republic, Aristotle's Physics, and the Gospel of John. Part Three shows how this breadth of reason is at work in John Paul's dialogue with Thomas Aquinas, John of the Cross, Kant, and Scheler.

Steven Smith
Aug 2017 277pp
9780996930543 Hardback £62.95 / €74.00
Invites readers to participate in a unique journey: a deep exploration of the Old and New Testaments that searches out and contemplates the reality of God's presence with his people, with a particular focus on investigating God's self-revelation in and through the biblical temple. The journey represents a tour de force of biblical theology, guided by author Steven Smith.

THE BUSINESS FRANCIS MEANS
Understanding the Pope's Message on the Economy
Martin Schlag
Sep 2017 210pp
9780813229737 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00
Shows that Pope Francis has something to say to all Christians. His message, taken as a whole, keeps us from dividing the “seamless garment” of Christ: he reminds the conservatives of the problems of inequality and poverty, and the liberals that social justice is not enough: the Church is the bride of Christ, not a social institution or an NGO.
THE LIGHT OF CHRIST
An Introduction to Christianity
Thomas Joseph White
Sep 2017 328pp
9780813229713 Paperback £21.50 / €25.00

Provides an accessible presentation of Catholicism that is grounded in traditional theology, but engaged with a host of contemporary questions or objections. Inspired by the theologies of Irenaeus, Thomas Aquinas and John Henry Newman, and rooted in a post-Vatican II context, Fr. Thomas Joseph White presents major doctrines of the Christian religion in a way that is comprehensible for non-specialists.

Searching for Meaning, Fulfillment, and Truth
Louis Roy
Dec 2017 256pp
9780813229799 Paperback £37.50 / €43.00

Taking account of the widespread indifference, scepticism, and distrust of organised religion in the West, Louis Roy begins The Three Dynamisms of Faith with the human concern about hope and about a reachable happiness, both in our contemporary world and in the Bible. He then traces these themes in three historic giants of Christian thinking: Thomas Aquinas, John Henry Newman, and Bernard Lonergan.

Hebrew Union College Press
In this fascinating new book, Paul Kengor tells the untold story of the partnership between Pope John Paul II and President Ronald Reagan and how together they changed the course of world history. Kengor shows that the bonds between the pope and the president ran deeper than anyone has suspected, and that these bonds drove them to confront what they saw as the great evil of the twentieth century: Soviet communism.

How do we respond in the face of evil, especially to those who inflict grave evil upon us? Abducted in Iraq is Bishop Saad Sirop Hanna’s firsthand account of his abduction in 2006 by a militant group associated with al-Qaeda. The book charts Hanna’s twenty-eight days in captivity as he struggles through threats, torture, and the unknown to piece together what little information he has in a bid for survival.

This is a unique and fascinating work whose aim is to present the reader with a compelling set of arguments for why the doctrine should remain central to the grammar of contemporary Christian theology. As such, the book will appeal to theologians as well as those interested in the relationship between theology and science.

Race, Freedom, and Extermination in America and the Atlantic World
Kay Wright Lewis
Aug 2017 272pp
9780820352678 Hardcover £62.50 / €74.00

From the inception of slavery as a pillar of the Atlantic World economy, both Europeans and Africans feared their mass extermination by the other in a race war. In the US, says Kay Wright Lewis, this ingrained dread nourished a preoccupation with slave rebellions and would later help fuel the Civil War, thwart the aims of Reconstruction, justify Jim Crow, and even inform civil rights movement strategy.

PHILANTHROPY IN SOUTH AFRICA
Horizontality, Ubuntu and Social Justice
Edited by Shauna Mottiar
Jul 2017 244pp
9780696925671 Hardcover £22.50 / €24.00

Dominant narratives of philanthropy often portray Africans as mere recipients of aid, usually from well endowed, Western almoners - the West distributing charity to impeccious Africans. The contributors to this volume turn this argument on its head and ask: what about the beneficent spirit of multitudes of Africans whose acts of generosity sustain millions of their compatriots?

CHINA’S GREAT MIGRATION
How the Poor Built a Prosperous Nation
Bradley M. Gardner
Jul 2017 232pp
9781598132229 Hardback £26.50 / €31.00

China’s rise over the past several decades has lifted more than half of its population out of poverty and reshaped the global economy. What has caused this dramatic transformation? Bradley Gardner looks at one of the most important but least discussed forces pushing China’s economic development: the migration of more than 260 million people from their birthplaces to China’s most economically vibrant cities.

BLACK MEN ON THE BLACKTOP
Basketball and the Politics of Race
A. Rafik Mohamed
Sep 2017 175pp
9781626376786 Paperback £29.50 / €34.00

What is it about basketball that makes it the black man’s game? And what about pickup basketball in particular: can it tell us something about the state of blackness in America? Reflecting on these questions, Rafik Mohamed presents pickup games as a text of the political, social, and economic struggles of African American men. In the process, he tells a story about race in its peculiarly American context.

A Visual Arts Approach to Engaging Social Change
Kim Shelley Berman
Dec 2017 232pp
9780472053667 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00

Demonstrates how Kim Berman was able to use visual arts training in disenfranchised communities as a tool for political and social transformation in South Africa. Using her own fieldwork as a case study, Berman shows how hands-on work in the arts with learners of all ages and backgrounds can contribute to economic stability by developing new skills, as well as enhancing public health and gender justice.

BLASIAN INVASION
Racial Mixing in the Celebrity Industrial Complex
Myra S. Washington
Dec 2017 192pp
9781496814227 Hardback £61.50 / €72.00

Probes the social construction of race through the mixed-race identity of Blasians, people of Black and Asian ancestry. Myra S. Washington looks at the construction of the identifier Blasian and how this term went from being undefined to forming a significant role in popular media. Washington tracks the transformation of Blasian from being an unmentioned category to a recognised status.

CONNECTING CHILDHOOD AND OLD AGE IN POPULAR MEDIA
Edited by Vanessa Joosen
Jan 2018 240pp
9781496815163 Hardback £61.50 / €72.00

With populations aging all around the world, awareness of intergenerational relationships and associations surrounding old age is becoming urgent. Connecting Childhood and Old Age in Popular Media caters to this urgency and contributes to age literacy by supplying insights into the connection between childhood and senescence to show that people are aged by culture.

Religion and Politics

Since the 1980 US presidential races, the term religious right has come to signify a politically and socially conservative form of Christianity. Less well known are the various other religions that have influenced white racist activities in America. The recent popularity of these ideologies has caused a shift away from Christianity among white nationalists. This title explores the causes of this shift.

PEOPLE AND CHANGE IN INDIGENOUS AUSTRALIA
Edited by Diane Austin-Broos & Francesca Merlan
Nov 2017 216pp
9780824867966 Hardback £64.95 / €76.00

Essays in this collection are grounded in Australian locales commonly termed “remote”. The contributors discuss the changing circumstances of indigenous people who originate from such places. Some remain, while others travel far afield. The accounts reveal a diversity of experiences and histories that involve major dynamics of disembedding from country and home locales, and re-embedding in new contexts.

Sep 2017 416pp, 58 colour images, 86 b&w images
9780472130351 Hardback £88.95 / €105.00
Social History, Popular Culture, and Politics in Germany
Magnus Hirschfeld’s Institute for Sexual Science was founded in Berlin in 1919 as a place of research, political advocacy, counselling, and public education. It was destroyed in 1933 as the first target of the Nazi book burnings. Not Straight from Germany examines its legacy, combining essays and a lavish array of visual materials.

REMAKING BLACK POWER
How Black Women Transformed an Era
Ashley D. Farmer
Nov 2017 288pp
9781469634371 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00
Justice, Power, and Politics
Examines black women’s political, social, and cultural engagement with Black Power ideals and organisations. Complicating the assumption that race and gender constraints relegated black women to the margins of the movement, Ashley Farmer demonstrates how female activists fought for more inclusive understandings of Black Power and social justice by developing new ideas about black womanhood.

THE NEW WOMAN

For full details of this title, see page 41.
What does it mean for Black women to organise in a political context that has generally ignored them or been unresponsive although Black women have shown themselves an important voting bloc? How, for example, does #sayhername translate into a political agenda that manifests itself in specific policies? Shadow Bodies focuses on the positionality of the Black woman’s body, which serves as a springboard for helping us think through political and cultural representations.

For the sixth edition the coverage of APA, Chicago, and CSE styles of documentation has been substantially expanded; the MLA section has now been fully revised to take into account all the 2016 changes. Also expanded is coverage of academic argument; of writing and critical thinking; of writing about literature, of paragraphing; of how to integrate quoted material into one’s own work; and of balance and parallelism.

A concise volume presenting essential material from the full Broadview Guide to Writing. Included are summaries of key grammatical points; a glossary of usage; advice on various forms of academic writing; coverage of punctuation and writing mechanics; helpful advice on how to research academic papers; and much more.

A concise and thoughtful guide to common errors in English. This volume covers frequently confused and misused words along with problems of grammar, punctuation, and style, and offers a brief and up-to-date guide to major citation styles. A friendly, flexible, and easy-to-read reference, Writing Wrongs will be useful to students and general readers alike.

Like its predecessor, this third edition explains understanding the intended audience, the purpose of the paper, and academic genres; includes the use of task-based methodology, analytic group discussion, and genre consciousness-raising; shows how to write summaries and critiques; features ‘language focus’ sections that address linguistic elements as they affect the wider rhetorical objectives; and helps students position themselves as junior scholars in their academic communities.

The Modern Language Association, the authority on research and writing, takes a fresh look at documenting sources in the eighth edition of the MLA Handbook. Shorter and redesigned for easy use, the eighth edition of the MLA Handbook guides writers through the principles behind evaluating sources for their research.

From the marble trading floors of Wall Street to the dirt floor of a microfinance lender in rural Sumatra, finance touches everybody’s lives. A Matter of Trust explores how the finance sector can stand as a true profession and provides a practical guide to make everyday business decisions in an ethically sound way.

Smashes tired prescriptions that women should lead like men, highlighting a long history of innovative female leadership. Christine Nixon and Amanda Sinclair draw on their own and thousands of others’ experiences to argue it is women who provide new inspiration for change towards inventive, inclusive and productive organisations and communities.

Nations with credible monetary regimes borrow at lower interest rates and are less likely to suffer speculative attacks and currency crises. While scholars typically attribute credibility to domestic institutions or international agreements, Jana Grittersová argues that when reputable multinational banks open branches within a nation, they enhance that nation’s monetary credibility.

Provides students with a clear, well-structured and comprehensive treatment of the theory and applications of operations research. The methodology used is to first introduce students to the fundamental concepts through numerical illustrations and then explain the underlying theory, wherever required. Inclusion of case studies makes learning easier and more effective.

Nancy Hoffman & Robert B. Schwartz
Foreword by Anthony P. Carnevale
Oct 2017 184pp
9781682531112 Paperback £29.50 / €34.00
Provides a comprehensive account of the Pathways to Prosperity Network, a project that offers urgently needed career pathways for young Americans who do not have a four-year college degree. It takes as its starting point the influential 2011 Pathways to Prosperity report, which challenged the prevailing idea that the core mission of high schools was to prepare all students for college.
LEARNING TIME
In Pursuit of Educational Equity
Edited by Marisa Saunders, Jorge Ruiz de Velasco & Jeannie Oakes
Nov 2017 300pp
9781682531068 Paperback £31.95 / €37.00
Explores how education time can be expanded, reimagined, and reorganised in an effort to enhance the educational opportunities and outcomes of disadvantaged students. The editors and contributors address questions of educational equity and opportunity by considering how best to extend learning time in high-poverty schools.

ACADEMIC ABLEISM
Disability and Higher Education
Jay T. Dolmage
Dec 2017 232pp, 6 figures
9780472053711 Paperback £26.50 / €31.00
Corporealities: Discourses Of Disability
Brings together disability studies and institutional critique to recognise the ways that disability is composed in and by higher education, and rewrites the spaces, times, and economies of disability in higher education to place disability front and centre. For too long disability has been constructed as the antithesis of higher education, often positioned as a distraction, a problem to be solved.

Corporealities: Discourses Of Disability
Disability is not always central to claims about diversity and inclusion in higher education, but should be. This collection reveals the pervasiveness of disability issues and considerations within many higher education populations and settings, from classrooms to physical environments to policy impacts on students, faculty, administrators, and staff.

Lynne R. Dorfman & Rose Cappelli
Foreword by Linda Hoyt
Jun 2017 368pp
9781625311313 Paperback £31.95 / €38.00

It’s been a decade since Lynne Dorfman and Rose Cappelli wrote the first edition of Mentor Texts and helped teachers make the most of high-quality children’s literature in their writing instruction. In this second edition of this important book Lynne and Rose show teachers how to help students become confident, accomplished writers by using literature as their foundation.

SUPER SPELLERS
Seven Steps to Transforming Your Spelling Instruction
Mark Weakland
Foreword by Richard Gentry
Aug 2017 152pp
9781625311023 Paperback £27.50 / €32.00

Many teachers are frustrated with not only how spelling traditionally is taught, but also with finding time to support young spellers with explicit strategy instruction. So Mark Weakland has developed Super Spellers, an approach to teaching spelling in a way that is research-based, focused, developmentally appropriate, and tied to authentic reading and writing.

THE ANALYTICS REVOLUTION IN HIGHER EDUCATION
Edited by Jonathan S. Gagliardi, Amelia Parnell & Julia Carpenter-Hubin
Jan 2018 224pp
9781620365779 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

In this era of “Big Data,” institutions of higher education are challenged to make the most of the information they have to improve student learning outcomes, close equity gaps, keep costs down, and address the economic needs of the communities they serve at the local, regional, and national levels. This book helps readers understand and respond to this “analytics revolution”.

Melinda Harm Benson & Robin Kundis Craig

Nov 2017 248pp

9780700625161 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00

The continued invocation of sustainability in policy discussions ignores the emerging reality of the Anthropocene, which is creating a world characterised by extreme complexity, radical uncertainty, and unprecedented change. From a legal and policy perspective, we must face the impossibility of even defining - let alone pursuing - a goal of “sustainability” in such a world.

Technology, Environment, and Law in the Twenty-First Century
Albert C. Lin
Jul 2017 316pp
9780472036981 Paperback £36.95 / €43.00

Instead of treating technology, health, and the environment as discrete issues, Albert C. Lin argues that laws must acknowledge their fundamental relationship, anticipating both future technological developments and their potential adverse effects. Laws should encourage international cooperation and the development of common global standards, while allowing for flexibility and reassessment.

The Interface of Asymptotic Geometric Analysis and Quantum Information Theory
Guillaume Aubrun & Stanislaw J. Szarek
Oct 2017 413pp
9781470434687 Hardback £115.00 / €135.00
Mathematical Surveys and Monographs, Vol. 223
This book builds a bridge between two scientific areas. The first area, Asymptotic Geometric Analysis (AGA), studies the geometry of Banach spaces through their subspaces or subsets of finite but large dimension. Geometric and probabilistic techniques, such as concentration of measure, play a fundamental role. The second area, Quantum Information Theory (QIT), provides the mathematical framework for manipulation of information in the quantum world, and for using quantum phenomena to transmit or store data.

A CONVERSATIONAL INTRODUCTION TO ALGEBRAIC NUMBER THEORY
Arithmetic Beyond Z
Paul Pollack
Sep 2017 308pp
9781470436537 Paperback £51.50 / €59.00
Student Mathematical Library, Vol. 84
Gauss famously referred to mathematics as the “queen of the sciences” and to number theory as the “queen of mathematics”. This book is an introduction to algebraic number theory, meaning the study of arithmetic in finite extensions of the rational number field Q.

Jul 2017 430pp
9780821843604 Hardback £115.00 / €135.00
Mathematical Surveys and Monographs, Vol. 216
Offers a modern, up-to-date introduction to quasiconformal mappings from an explicitly geometric perspective, emphasising both the extensive developments in mapping theory during the past few decades and the remarkable applications of geometric function theory to other fields, including dynamical systems, Kleinian groups, geometric topology, differential geometry, and geometric group theory.

A MATHEMATICAL GALLERY
Lisl Gaal
Dec 2017 64pp
9781470441593 Paperback £24.50 / €27.00
In this book, the author guides the reader on a leisurely and playful mathematical tour, aided by her own illustrations of familiar scenes and whimsical triggers for the imagination. Starting with what seems at first to be simple counting (which turns out to not be so simple!), she proceeds to find areas and volumes using butterflies and string; compares polynomial multiplication to the geometry of a fruit stand, patterns of primes in a two-dimensional number system to a checkerboard tablecloth, and infinity to a waterfall.

MODERN CRYPTOGRAPHY AND ELLIPTIC CURVES
A Beginner’s Guide
Thomas R. Shemanske
Aug 2017 261pp
9781470435820 Paperback £49.95 / €59.00
Student Mathematical Library, Vol. 83
Offers the beginning undergraduate student some of the vista of modern mathematics by developing and presenting the tools needed for an understanding of the arithmetic of elliptic curves over finite fields and their applications to modern cryptography. This gradual introduction also makes a significant effort to teach students how to produce or discover a proof by presenting mathematics as an exploration.

Sep 2017 699pp
9780821849477 Hardback £87.95 / €105.00
Graduate Studies in Mathematics, Vol. 179

The theory of modular forms is a fundamental tool used in many areas of mathematics and physics. It is also a very concrete and “fun” subject in itself and abounds with an amazing number of surprising identities. This comprehensive textbook, which includes numerous exercises, aims to give a complete picture of the classical aspects of the subject, with an emphasis on explicit formulas.

MEASURE THEORY AND INTEGRATION
Jul 2017 170pp
9789385909436 Paperback £19.50 / €23.00

Integration is one of the two cornerstones of analysis. In the fundamental work of Lebesgue, integration is presented in terms of measure theory. This introductory text starts with the historical development of the notion of the set theory and integral theory. From here, the reader is naturally led to the consideration of the Lebesgue integral, where abstract integration is developed via the measure theory.

Provides a self-contained, comprehensive study of the main first-order methods that are frequently used in solving large-scale problems. First-order methods exploit information on values and gradients/subgradients (but not Hessians) of the functions composing the model under consideration. With the increase in the number of applications that can be modeled as large or even huge-scale optimization problems, there has been a revived interest in using simple methods that require low iteration cost as well as low memory storage.

FORMULATION AND NUMERICAL SOLUTION OF QUANTUM CONTROL PROBLEMS
Alfio Borzi, Gabriele Ciaramella & Martin Sprengel
Jul 2017 390pp
9781611974836 Hardback £95.95 / €110.00
Computational Science & Engineering
Provides an introduction to representative nonrelativistic quantum control problems and their theoretical analysis and solution via modern computational techniques. The quantum theory framework is based on the Schrödinger picture, and the optimisation theory, which focuses on functional spaces, is based on the Lagrange formalism.

FOUNDATIONS OF APPLIED MATHEMATICS, VOLUME 1
Mathematical Analysis
Jeffrey Humpherys, Tyler Jarvis & Emily J. Evans
Aug 2017 689pp
9781611974898 Hardback £86.50 / €99.00
Provides the foundations of both linear and nonlinear analysis necessary for understanding and working in twenty-first century applied and computational mathematics. In addition to the standard topics, this text includes several key concepts of modern applied mathematical analysis that should be, but are not typically, included in advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate mathematics curricula.

HIGH-GAIN OBSERVERS IN NONLINEAR FEEDBACK CONTROL
Hassan K. Khalil
Jul 2017 324pp
9781611974959 Paperback £86.50 / €99.00
Advances in Design and Control
For over a quarter of a century, high-gain observers have been used extensively in the design of output feedback control of nonlinear systems. This book presents a clear, unified treatment of the theory of high-gain observers and their use in feedback control. Also provided is a discussion of the separation principle for nonlinear systems.

MODEL REDUCTION AND APPROXIMATION
Theory and Algorithms
Edited by Peter Benner, Albert Cohen, Mario Ohlberger & Karen Willcox
Jul 2017 412pp
9781611974812 Paperback £95.95 / €110.00
Computational Science & Engineering
In spite of increasing computational capacities, many problems are of such high complexity that they are solvable only with severe simplifications, and the design of efficient numerical schemes remains a central research challenge. This book presents a tutorial introduction to recent developments in mathematical methods for model reduction and approximation of complex systems.

VECTOR EXTRAPOLATION METHODS WITH APPLICATIONS
Avram Sidi
Sep 2017 428pp
9781611974959 Paperback £105.00 / €115.00
Computational Science and Engineering, Vol. 17
Vector Extrapolation Methods with Applications is the first book fully dedicated to the subject of vector extrapolation methods. It is a self-contained, up-to-date, and state-of-the-art reference on the theory and practice of the most useful methods. It covers all aspects of the subject, including development of the methods, their convergence study, numerically stable algorithms for their implementation, and their various applications. It also provides complete proofs in most places.

RADIOTherapy in cancer care
Facing the Global Challenge
IAEA
Aug 2017 277pp
9789201150134 Paperback £56.95 / €62.00

Cancer treatment is complex and calls for a diverse set of services. Radiation therapy is recognised as an essential tool in the cure and palliation of cancer. Currently, access to radiation treatment is limited in many countries and non-existent in some. This lack of radiation therapy resources exacerbates the burden of disease and underscores the continuing health care disparity among States. Closing this gap represents an essential measure in addressing this global health equity problem. This publication presents a comprehensive overview of the major topics and issues to be taken into consideration when planning a strategy to address this problem, in particular in low and middle income countries.

Second Edition

Hanna Leveson

Jul 2017 200pp

9781433827769 Paperback £27.95 / €33.00

Theories of Psychotherapy Series

Brief dynamic therapy is a time-efficient treatment in which the therapist maintains a focus on specific client issues, all within a basic psychodynamic framework. This volume focuses largely on time-limited dynamic psychotherapy. It explores this integrative, culturally-sensitive approach, its theory, history, the therapy process, primary change mechanisms, empirical basis, and developments.

CULTURAL HUMILITY

Engaging Diverse Identities in Therapy

Joshua N. Hook, Don Davis, Jesse Owen & Cirleen DeBlaere

Jul 2017 288pp

9781433827776 Hardback £78.50 / €91.00

Describes how therapists can combine multicultural theory with their own lived experience to meaningfully engage clients in issues of culture. The authors of this book recommend that mental health practitioners focus not on what they have learned in previous clinical or educational settings, but on what they don’t know about the client who sits across from them.
EXISTENTIAL-HUMANISTIC THERAPY
Second Edition
Kirk J. Schneider & Orah T. Krug
Jul 2017 208pp
9781433827372 Paperback £27.95 / €33.00
Theories of Psychotherapy Series

Existential-humanistic therapy melds European existential philosophy - which values self-inquiry, struggle, and responsibility - with the American tradition of spontaneity, optimism, and practicality. This volume demonstrates how this unique approach can help clients free themselves from self-imposed limitations and develop a deeper understanding of their authentic life goals.

Harte Research Institute for Gulf of Mexico Studies Series
In total, there are more than 400 bird species that rely on the Gulf of Mexico at some time during the year. Drawing on decades of fieldwork and data research, renowned ornithologist and behavioural ecologist Joanna Burger provides detailed descriptions of birdlife on the Gulf.
Now in its second edition, this text covers the complete range of the topics pertaining to biodiversity, including its meaning, its history, importance of species diversity, systematics, determination of status of bioresources, pattern of distribution of global species, genetic diversity and ecosystem diversity. It also explores various drivers that lead to biodiversity loss.

This publication provides the background and compiles the most recent research findings as well as details development activities relating to the development of radiation processed products made of natural polymers. Successes clearly indicate that radiation processing of natural polymers has emerged as an exciting area where the unique characteristics of these polymeric materials can be exploited for a variety of practical applications in agriculture, health care, industry and the environment.

Presents the basic properties of polymers, including diverse fundamental and applied aspects. This book provides a basis for understanding polymerization, and it offers a comprehensive overview of the scientific research of polymers. Chapters can be used as a reference for those interested in understanding the sustainable development in polymers.

Cast iron development engineers, foundry production and support personnel, product-application engineers, and designers now have an ASM Handbook® devoted to the principles, practices, and application of cast iron science and technology. Up-to-date content covers all aspects of cast iron fundamentals and metallurgy, primary and secondary processing, effects of processing on properties, process, and product design, and the engineering properties of specific grades, types, and product forms of iron castings.

RISK MANAGEMENT IN EVALUATING MINERAL DEPOSITS
Jean-Michel Rendu
Aug 2017 320pp
9780873354486 Hardback £115.00 / €135.00

Written by a mining professional with a strong background in technical and financial studies, risk assessment, and statistics, this book provides a detailed suite of tools so you can determine whether investing in a mining project makes sense for you. Jean-Michel Rendu provides a comprehensive guide to determine when to invest, when to demand a plan that reduces the risks, and when to just walk away.

PHYSICS AND THE ENVIRONMENT
Kyle Forinash
Aug 2017 236pp
9781681744926 Paperback £62.95 / €72.00

Physics and the Environment directly connects the physical world to environmental issues that the world is facing today and will face in the future. It shows how the first and second laws of thermodynamics limit the efficiencies of fossil fuel energy conversions to less than 100%, while also discussing how clever technologies can enhance overall performance.

SPIRAL STRUCTURE IN GALAXIES
Marc S. Seigar
Aug 2017 84pp
9781681746081 Paperback £33.95 / €39.00

How does it happen that billions of stars can cooperate to produce the beautiful spirals that characterize so many galaxies, including ours? This book reviews the history behind the discovery of spiral galaxies and the problems faced when trying to explain the existence of spiral structure within them.
A thorough description of how to process microseismic data and the underlying theory, of what can and cannot be inferred, and to what level of certainty, the discussion follows the passage of a seismic wave – from a source triggered by hydraulic stimulation, through hydrocarbon-bearing formations, towards motion sensors.

SEISMIC INVERSION
Gerard T. Schuster
Aug 2017 376pp
9781560803416 Hardback £245.00 / €280.00
Investigations in Geophysics, Vol. 20
Describes the theory and practice of inverting seismic data for subsurface rock properties of the earth. The primary application is for inverting reflection and transmission data from engineering or exploration surveys, but methods also can be used for earthquake studies. Computational labs are provided for most chapters.

ENCELADUS AND THE ICY MOONS OF SATURN
Edited by Paul M. Schenk et al
Feb 2018 600pp, 300 b&w illustrations, 24 page colour insert
9780816537075 Hardback £78.50 / €92.00
Space Science Series
With active geysers coating its surface with dazzlingly bright ice crystals, Saturn’s large moon Enceladus is one of the most enigmatic worlds in our solar system. This book brings together nearly eighty of the world’s top experts to set the foundation for what we currently understand, while building the framework for the highest-priority questions to be addressed through ongoing spacecraft exploration.

PIERCING THE HORIZON
The Making of a Twentieth-Century American Space Luminary
Sunny Tsiao
Sep 2017 266pp
97815557537911 Hardback £31.50 / €37.00
Purdue Series in Aeronautics and Astronautics
Delivers new insights into the behind-the-scenes drama of the space race by examining the career of Thomas Paine. Piercing the Horizon provides provocative context to current conversations on the case for reaching Mars, settling our solar system, and continuing the exploration of space.
